

Call for Papers – Journal of Accounting, Auditing, Tax and Management (JAATM)

Introduction

The Journal of Accounting, Auditing, Tax and Management (JAATM) is a double blind peer-reviewed journal from the Institute of Chartered Accountants Ghana (ICAG). We are pleased to announce a call for papers for potential publication in future issues of JAATM.

We welcome submissions of original articles that advance knowledge on topics encompassing accounting, auditing, taxation, management, and related interdisciplinary areas including finance, economics, law, and information systems.

As the flagship publication of ICAG, JAATM serves as a key forum to connect rigorous academic studies with professional insights from the accounting, advisory and management fields. We highly encourage collaborative work between researchers and practitioners.

Accepted papers demonstrably furthering intellectual progress will be promptly published in upcoming journal issues on a rolling basis. We envision JAATM as a premier outlet for rising talent tackling pressing real-world challenges via evidence-based and ethical research.

Submission Guidelines

JAATM accepts original research article submissions on a rolling basis throughout the calendar year through our online submission system at <https://journal.icagh.org/login>. Authors must first create a user profile and submit the manuscript along with title page. Submitted papers should adhere to the author formatting guidelines detailed on the journal website <https://journal.icagh.org/>.

All manuscripts submitted to JAATM undergo a rigorous double-blind peer review process. The submitted documents are checked for plagiarism and screened by the editorial team. Qualifying articles are sent to 2-3 expert referees for review within 4-6 weeks. Final decision on acceptance is made in 8-10 weeks on average post submission.

Papers found suitable after peer review may involve 1-2 rounds of revision. Our online system enables easy tracking of review timelines and document versions. Articles accepted after peer review are professionally copyedited and then published in the current issue of the journal on a rolling basis. As JAATM provides open access to knowledge, we currently do not charge an article processing or publication fee.

We highly encourage accounting professional first-time authors and graduate students exploring original theoretical or applied research on emerging priorities in the field to submit articles year-round through the journal's online system

Kindly address any questions regarding the suitability of your research or submission process to the JAATM Editorial Office at samuel.fianko@icagh.com. We keenly look forward to your contributions advancing accounting, management and advisory knowledge.
